MASS TIMES

5/17 5:15 pm
5/18 6:45 am
8:00 am
12:00 pm

Greg turned off his TV in frustration. "That's it! I'm done with watching the news." To say that Greg was interested in politics was certainly an understatement.

But lately he just couldn't take it anymore. He needed a break.

He was filled with worry about the future—the country's, the world's, and, more importantly, his own. He just marveled at how things were getting crazier and crazier. Just when you thought it couldn't get any worse, it did! There were the thoughts running through his mind as he walked up the stairs one night to go to bed.

The next day he was out for a walk with an old buddy of his, and he mentioned how he was feeling about all this 'stuff', and the challenges of the present situation. Joe, a retired deacon, and a pretty prayerful guy (Greg had always thought) said to him, "I just finished a biography of John XXIII, and there was this great insight into some of his thinking about how to approach a problem. It seems that when the Pope would meditate about what was going on in the world and how it was effecting the Church and his own personal life, he would always keep in mind this distinction: That there is human history, and then there is what he would call real (or true) history. He would remember that this true history is where the mysterious God is intervening in ways that we do not see.

"In other words", Joe said, "It comes down to a 'human interpretation' of events vs seeing events through God's eyes—or the way that God would want us to see them. It's an acknowledgement that God is much more in control of things than we are. We will eventually see what God is doing.

When I keep reminding myself of this, I find that I calm down a bit and try not to let myself get too anxious, especially about what I have no control over.

The disciples on the road to Emmaus were filled with disappointment and maybe even frustration as they returned home. They were going back defeated. It wasn't until they encountered Christ that they realized that they had been going in the wrong direction. They also began to see that they were interpreting what been happening incorrectly. Jesus showed them that everything that happened had to happen, so there was no need to turn their back on God's plan now.

These disciples had been 'in retreat' as if they had lost a battle. Jesus was saying that they needed to change direction and not go back to the old ways. As the disciples, so for each of us, on our journey of life.

I found this quote that I think can be very helpful for us:

"We judge things from a merely human standpoint, as they strike our senses and our human estimation. We fail to hold everything against the bright background of faith. Instead, we allow our emotions to dictate to us what is real and what is not. Far too easily we give way to our moods, our fears, our uneasy feelings."

Certainly something for all of us to think about. So, let me end this morning with these words from Pope Francis:

"The Gospel for today teaches us that two opposite directions are set before us in life: The path of those who let themselves be paralyzed by disappointments and trudge along sadly. Then there is the path of those who put Jesus and others before their own problems."

May 1: St. Joseph the Worker

This feast extends the long relationship between Joseph and the cause of workers in both Catholic faith and devotion.

Beginning in the Book of Genesis, the dignity of human work has long been celebrated as a participation in the creative work of God. By work, humankind both fulfills the command found in Genesis to care for the earth (Gn 2:15) and to be productive in their labors. Saint Joseph, the carpenter and foster father of Jesus, is but one example of the holiness of human labor.

Prayer to Follow Jesus, the Good Shepherd

Gentle Jesus, compassionate and caring Good Shepherd, help me to follow You faithfully.

Strengthen me daily with Your love, and guide me along life's paths.

Keep me free from every evil, protect me from sickness and danger, and lead me to serve You with all my mind and heart and soul.

Hear my needs and grant me petitions, especially these intentions important to me at this time: {Mention your petitions here}

Bless me each day with peace of mind and heart. May I experience Your saving power in my daily life, as I await the fullness of life and joy with You forever. Amen.

THE TEAMS LEADING OUR EXPLORATION OF A CHURCH RENOVATION AND SCHOOL EXPANSION... AND THE NEXT STEPS!

THE SJN STEERING COMMITTEE

The Renovation Steering Committee was formed to involve those with experience closely related to the church, school, and the parish more broadly. Our team includes members from our Parish Pastoral Council, the Finance Council, the School Advisory Board, rectory staff, members closely involved in our prior campaign, and, of course, our pastor and principal.

Msgr. Matz	John Knott
Kelly Ciminera	Bob Lee
Ward Fitzgerald	Paul Selvaggi
Clare Frissora	Joe Swift
Wendy Hess	David West
Pierce Keating

OUR PROJECT FOCUS IN MAY IS TO CONDUCT A COMPREHENSIVE PLANNING STUDY.

This will allow you to share your thoughts regarding our needs and the possibility of conducting a major fundraising effort. Your input will enable us to determine potential support for two key projects: a church renovation and an expansion of our school.

If, as a faith community, we choose to move forward, the study will also help us to identify prospective campaign leaders and to establish a realistic campaign goal.

The Steier Group will conduct interviews, lead surveys, and present their findings to the Steering Committee. This will allow us to make an informed decision regarding the implementation of our plan.

Every parish family is encouraged to participate—
This is your home, and your input is valuable to help plan our future.

THE STEIER GROUP

The Steier Group is a national, Catholic development and stewardship firm based in Omaha, Nebraska with offices in Arizona, California, Colorado, Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, Oregon and Texas. They build customized planning studies and provide hands-on campaign management to schools, churches, dioceses and colleges across the United States and Canada. Since their founding in 1997, the Steier Group has raised more than $2.5 billion for their clients.

STUDIO IO

Studio io is a Catholic liturgical design firm that specializes in architectural and aesthetic design of Catholic worship, educational and administrative space. Since 2018, they have assisted dozens of Catholic parishes, dioceses, campus ministries, schools, seminaries, religious communities, retreat centers, and other apostolates with consulting and design for renovations, and new construction.

We were introduced to Studio io by the Archdiocese of Philadelphia's office of Divine Worship who highly recommended them.

Michael Raia, Studio io's founder, is frequently a speaker and contributor to liturgical design and sacred architecture conferences.

They are based in Austin, TX. Our project lead is based in New Jersey and brings significant career experience in school architecture and design.

Studio io's business model is structured to pair with local architects, thus facilitating local municipality and state-directed architectural considerations.

KSM ARCHITECTS

The Archdiocese requested Studio io to take the lead in identifying a suitable architect to pair with their business model. Studio io presented multiple firms to Msgr. Matz, but was particularly interested in KSM Architects.

Interestingly, KSM had recently completed projects with an area parish that had repeatedly hired them—for three major construction needs. Serendipitously, Msgr. Matz knows that pastor well and was able to get an insider sense of working with KSM.

KSM Architects, based in Berwyn, PA, is an architectural design and engineering firm with experience in developing architectural programs, creating schematic designs, providing design development services, developing detailed construction documents, and providing construction administration services. They focus on facilities evaluation, program development, feasibility studies, and master planning services. Their work has supported diverse customers across commercial, institutional, multifamily, residential, and recreational projects, among others.
