SON OF MATTHEW AND RACHEL

Prayer of St. Augustine of Hippo

O Lord my God,
I believe in you,
Father, Son, and Holy Spirit...
Insofar as I can,
insofar as you have given me the power,
I have sought you.

I became weary and I labored. O Lord my God, my sole hope, help me to believe and never to cease seeking you. Grant that I may always and ardently seek out your countenance.

Give me the strength to seek you, for you help me to find you and you have more and more given me the hope of finding you.

Here I am before you with my firmness and my infirmity. Preserve the first and heal the second. Here I am before you with my strength and my ignorance.

Where you have opened the door to me, welcome me at the entrance; where you have closed the door to me, open to my cry; enable me to remember you,

PLEASE PRAY FOR OUR DECEASED

Thomas Lavín
Mary Ann Keenan

May their souls, and all the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.

As I get older, I find that my memory isn't what it used to be. If I think that there is something I have to do, I need to do it right away, or at least write it down on a

“to-do list” and hope that I remember to look at the list! Same thing with losing things, forgetting where I put something—mostly it's my keys or the phone—if I put something down in a place different than the usual spot, I'm going to have trouble remembering where it is. Then I have to go on the quest. There is always a sense of relief when I find what I'm looking for.

But this idea of finding what you're looking for can be taken to a different level. And on this Solemnity of the Epiphany, the idea of seeking is very important, a time where another question should be asked, not 'where are my keys?', but rather, have I found what I've been looking for in my life? Have I found happiness? Have I found peace? Have I found love? Have I found myself? Have I found God? Or am I still seeking?

And if I'm still seeking, is there a purpose to my search, or am I the one who's lost? Here's a final question: When I find what I'm looking for, will I even be able to recognize it, will I be convinced that I've found it?

For those of you who subscribe to Magnificat, there's a very beautiful “meditation of the day” for Epiphany. It's taken from a book called Epiphanies, (a Collection of Scriptural Meditations in the Ignatian Tradition).

Let me explain what the Ignatian tradition of reading Scripture is all about. It's when you read a passage from Scripture—usually one that describes a scene or event—and in your reflection you place yourself in the scene, or try, somehow, to make what's written on the page feel like it's happening in present time and, most importantly, that you are part of it.

Let me share with you this little passage, called “Through the Eyes of King Melchior”.

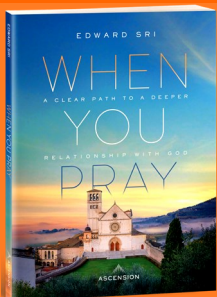

We made our way through the narrow streets and found the light falling upon the simplest of dwellings. Unable to wait until the sun rose above the hills, my companion knocked. The door opened, and without hesitation (as if he had been waiting for our arrival), a kindly man with gentle features ushered us in from the cold. We were led to a dimly lit corner where sat a young woman. As we reverently approached, she glanced up and smiled, and I spontaneously bowed—for she had the nobility of a queen...

Now, no man could ever know or comprehend what I must tell you next. The young woman bent low, as if to direct our gaze to him. In an instant, I was on my knees, transfixed before the most beautiful of all faces. It was the face of a child. What I encountered in that brief but momentous minute was so astonishing I can barely say. Here, in this poor, humble, little King I found all the wisdom that ever was. Here, I somehow knew, was the source of all truth...

For King Melchior, the search is complete, there is confidence, he has found what he has been looking for!

So, on this Epiphany 2024, ask Jesus to help you find what you are looking for—more importantly, be sure to find Christ! Once you have found Him, and are convinced that you have indeed found Him, all other seeking is ended, for in Christ lies all the answers.

Remember, following the light of Christ on your journey will keep you safe and protect you from the power of darkness just as it did Mary and Joseph who were both protected from the evil intentions of Herod.

WHEN YOU PRAY — For anyone looking to retool their prayer life or dig deeper.

A contemporary video guide and book by one of our favorites, Dr. Edward Sri!

Cultivate a rich and lasting prayer life. You know prayer is important but still find it challenging. Perhaps it's hard to find time, or you're unsure what to do when you pray. Or maybe you feel discouraged by your weaknesses and your inability to overcome them.

If you have any of these feelings, you are not alone. Many of the saints struggled in prayer. They were like us. But each time they fell, they got up again and learned to rely more on God's grace.

What God did in the lives of countless saints, he wants to do in the lives of ordinary people like us. And that's what this study is about: the journey of prayer God wants to take us on.

Authored and presented by Dr. Edward Sri, When You Pray also features Fr. Jacques Philippe, Fr. Josh Johnson, Fr. Gregory Pine, Sister Josephine Garrett, Fr. Donald Haggerty, and Sister Maris Stella.

Supporting Those with Mental Health Struggles

Saturday, January 27th, 9:15am - 2:30pm

It is estimated that one in five adults in the U.S. lives with a mental illness. Among children and teens, the numbers are increasing dramatically. This means that every parish and church institution has many members who suffer in this way, and often in silence.

This workshop is designed to give parish leaders, as well as family members and friends, practical tools to help you support those who experience mental health struggles. See the flyer for workshop topics.

—The Office for the New Evangelization and Office for Persons with Disabilities of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia —

Jan. 17: St. Anthony of Egypt, Abbot (251-356)

Anthony was born in Egypt in 250. At age 20, when his parents died, Anthony made sure his younger sister's education could be completed in a community of holy women. He then sold all his possessions and left for a life of solitude in the desert. There an elderly hermit taught him about prayer and penance. For 20 years, he lived in isolation. Anthony wanted to know God deeply. He did penance by taking only bread and water once a day at sunset. The devil appeared to him in terrible shapes to tempt him. But Anthony had great confidence in God. Anthony's unusual life did not make him harsh but radiant with God's love and compassion.

Stories of Anthony's holiness spread, and people came to learn from him how to become holy. Some admirers wanted to stay, so Anthony—at age 54—founded a type of monastery consisting of hermitages near one another. Anthony wrote a rule that guided the monks. Later when Anthony heard of the persecutions of the Christians, he wanted to die a martyr. At 60, he left the desert to minister to the Christians in prisons, fearlessly exposing himself to danger. He came to realize that a person can die daily for Christ by serving him in ordinary ways with great love. So he returned to the desert to his life of prayer and penance. His life of solitude was again interrupted, however, when at age 88 he had a vision in which he saw the harm Arian followers were doing to the Church by denying the divinity of Christ. Anthony left for Alexandria to preach against this heresy. At age 90, another vision sent Anthony searching the desert for Saint Paul, the first hermit. These two holy men met and spoke of the wonders of God. Anthony is said to have died peacefully in a cave at age 105.

SCJN

As part of the SCJN Middle School Flex program, Mrs. Denise McKenzie visited SCJN and spoke to students on January 9. Mrs. McKenzie taught in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia for many years. She spoke to the students about her family's miraculous journey. In 1992, her daughter Bernadette was cured of a debilitating spinal disease. The cure was attributed as the first miracle in the cause for Sainthood of Saint Leonie Aviat. Her testimony was a powerful story for our students who listened so intently!
