In memory of Emily & Albert Wankmiller
from Judy & Denis Cassidy

For the second time in one semester, Jimmy has been suspended from his high school. The Principal tells Jimmy and his parents that Jimmy has only one more chance, and if he fails he will be expelled. His parents give Jimmy an ultimatum—if he doesn't get his act together, he will be sent to a military school. His father and mother sit down with him when they get home and ask, "What do you think of all this?" And Jimmy's reply is, "All what?" It's usually at this point that his father starts flipping out, but this time the father controls himself. The father calmly but sternly says, "About being expelled and having to go to a military school". Jimmy says, "I don't care." Then his mother says, "How about we ask your Principal if we can visit the school that they would transfer you to." The response: "I don't care." So it's arranged. Jimmy says nothing.

So, they go to the school. Jimmy sees how they handle things here. The students there are not looking at him with friendly faces. On the way home his Mom says, "We love you, Son, but only you can decide if this is your future. I'm not so sure how comfortable you would be there. Only you can prevent this." His Father adds, "This is totally on you. You don't have to end up at that school. You don't have to be expelled. All your Mom and I ask is that you don't let that happen. You decide. Time is running out. Think about it. It's your life."

It's all staring Jimmy in the face. He's going to have to change his way of thinking, change his way of living.

A young girl in her late 20's decides to attend a July 4th cook out at the home of her friend. There is a large crowd present, all baking in the sun.

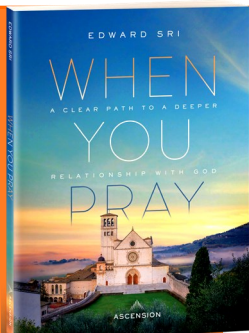

Among the invited guests is a priest. He's a friend of the family. The young girl starts telling the priest how terrible her experience was of Catholic grade school and high school. And the girl half expected the priest to interrupt her and break into a huge defense of Catholic schools, but this priest chooses to listen instead. Then the girl shifts to a tirade about her parents and how they should have insisted that she attend a better college than the one she did. The education she received there wasn't that great as far as she was concerned.

It seemed to the priest that this person is only looking to argue and blame everyone else for something that is causing great frustration and anger within herself. She decided that her parents and her teachers, and everyone else had all the problems—that all the bad things that happened to her were their fault. And when this young girl made the decision too it was everyone else's fault, she took her life down the wrong path. She lost the ability to listen to common sense.

In everyone's life, there is a time when the right decision must be made. And if we end up making the wrong decision, then it is time to turn to God and ask him to enter your life and help you get back on the right path. Believe it or not, stubbornness can sometimes be a sin.

But if we want, we can appeal to the Holy Spirit and God will have compassion on us and help us to get back on the right track. However, it will mean that we are going to be in for a change. But by that time, we are ready to let God change us. So that means we will have to reform ourselves.

However, if we miss this chance, we will end up walking away from God and we will be lost. St Paul says, "time is running out."

WHEN YOU PRAY — For anyone looking to retool their prayer life or dig deeper.

We'll use a contemporary video series. An optional easy-to-read book is also available.

Cultivate a rich and lasting prayer life. You know prayer is important but still find it challenging. Perhaps it's hard to find time, or you're unsure what to do when you pray. Or maybe you feel discouraged by your weaknesses and your inability to overcome them.

If you have any of these feelings, you are not alone. Many of the saints struggled in prayer. They were like us. But each time they fell, they got up again and learned to rely more on God's grace.

What God did in the lives of countless saints, he wants to do in the lives of ordinary people like us. And that's what this study is about: the journey of prayer God wants to take us on.

On Sunday, January 21, Pope Francis inaugurated a Year of Prayer ahead of the 2025 Jubilee, calling on the faithful “to pray more fervently to prepare ourselves to live properly this grace-filled event and to experience the power of hope in God.”

The Year of Prayer, the Holy Father explained, is dedicated “to rediscovering the great value and absolute need for prayer, prayer in personal life, in the life of the Church, prayer in the world.”

Prayer of Thomas Aquinas

Give me, Lord God, a watchful heart that no stray thought might distract me from you.

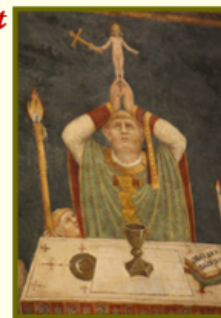

Give me a noble heart that no unworthy affection might pull me down.

Give me a just heart that will not be divided by any dark intention.

Give me a strong heart that will not be broken by any tribulation.

Give me a free heart that will not follow any violent desire.

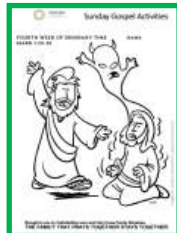

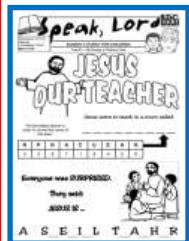

Give me, Lord God, a mind to know you, diligence to seek you, wisdom to find you, a life to please you, perseverance to wait faithfully for you and the trust that will finally embrace you.

Exorcisms: What Catholics Need to Know | Chris Stefanick Show

Scripture says, "Be sober and alert. Your opponent the devil is prowling like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour. Resist him, solid in your faith." But a lot of Catholics aren't really familiar with this idea. So to start unpacking it, we're talking to Fr. Chad Ripperger, an exorcist priest.

Saint John Bosco: Mission to Love

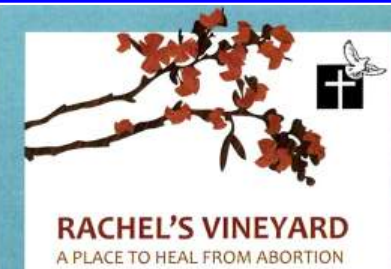

Flavio Insinna gives a winning performance as John Bosco, the great priest and educator of youth. Beautifully filmed in Italy, this epic movie dramatizes the many challenges that he had to overcome from his childhood all the way to founding his religious order.

Book Club— February: CLARE OF ASSISI: GENTLE WARRIOR — by Wendy Murray

* Weekly sessions to discuss short reading assignments.

* Fri, Feb 9, 9:45-11:15, Gathering Room Email: book-club@sjnparish.org

Clare is a figure of heroism, tenacity, beatitude and grit who plotted her improbable course in the context of the raucous and explosive period of the Middle Ages. Much went wrong for Clare after the day when, as a teen, she fled the home of her noble and wealthy family to follow Francis in a life of poverty. No one would have begrudged her if, when the trials had become onerous, she had decided simply to “go home.” Yet she stayed the course, even after Francis had died. She pulled from the fire of her trials embers that would become her crown. In this new book, Wendy Murray digs deeply into Clare’s decision to abandon rank and wealth for allegiance to Christ (and in no small way, Francis) and explores the circumstances which, later on, tested Clare’s devotion. Clare’s curious and vivid spiritual vision galvanized her ability to persevere amid difficult circumstances and enabled her to stay her course and lay claim to a legacy that shines brightly among the host of medieval saints.

Feb. 2: The Presentation of the Lord

The presentation of Jesus in the temple shows him to be the firstborn Son who belongs to the Lord. With Simeon and Anna, all Israel awaits its encounter with the Savior—the name given to this event in the Byzantine tradition. Jesus is recognized as the long-expected Messiah, the “light to the nations” and the “glory of Israel,” but also “a sign that is spoken against.” The sword of sorrow predicted for Mary announces Christ’s perfect and unique oblation on the cross that will impart the salvation God had “prepared in the presence of all peoples.”

It is also important to note that, as a poor family, the Holy Family gave an offering of a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons. However, the Lamb whom they brought to the Temple was the Lamb of God.
