Mia Claire McNulty

DAUGHTER OF MICHAEL & MARY ROSE

A man is in his car. It is a Saturday afternoon during Lent and he is driving by his parish church. And he thinks to himself, "I really should go to confession. It's been a long time."

And this man has really been off-track lately—his life is a mess. There are problems at home with his eldest son seemingly wasting away his first year of college, and the worries that his son will lose the scholarship he received. There's been bickering with his wife over a number of issues, some silly, but others not so silly. There's all the upheaval at work along with all the office drama. Then there are the temptations, the things he's struggled with most of his life, but can't seem to conquer. These temptations are stronger than ever now that he's facing all this stress.

So he pulls into the parking lot and turns off the engine. But then he begins to think to himself: "Why am I bothering with this? It really doesn't work anyway—this confessing of sins. Within a week or two I'm back doing the same old stuff. This so-called "grace" that's supposed to come from the sacrament isn't working for me. The man starts up the engine and drives off.

Don't you sometimes feel that you can never win the battle against temptation? Or maybe you are able to resist temptations, even for a really long time, but then, for one reason or another, it all comes back again, even worse than before! We begin to lose hope and we think, "What's the use?"

Let me share something with you that I think can be very helpful when feeling at a loss. These are very simple words that were shared many years ago by an old Irish priest. These words focus on perseverance in the face of sin and temptation:

"Hold on, do not quit. You will fall down, but it does not matter how often you fall. It does not matter how often you fail in humility. It does not matter how often you fall into sin. It does not matter how often things go wrong. It does not matter how often you are tempted to throw in the towel or to give up. Do not quit, but rather, turn back to God. As long as you keep getting up you cannot be beaten. It is not a matter of natural fortitude. It is a matter of faith and confidence in God. You have to say to yourself, "God knows what he's going."

The man who drove off really wasn't looking at Confession the right way. Going to Confession doesn't automatically make temptations go away. But those very temptations can actually be the key that begins to open the door to a deeper relationship with Christ. Remember the wonderful words that St. Paul wrote as he tried to deal with his own weaknesses and temptations: "Three times I begged God to rid me of it, but God's answer was: 'My grace is all you need; my power finds its full strength in weakness.' Therefore I shall prefer to find my joy and my pride in the things that are my weakness; and then the power of Christ will come and rest upon me. For this reason I am content, for the sake of Christ, with weakness, contempt, persecution, hardship, and frustration; for when I am weak, then I am strong."

So, in a strange way, our struggles can be seen as a kind of gift. Several of the Desert Fathers (they go back to the fourth century in Egypt) had this to say about temptation: "Whoever has not experienced temptation cannot enter into the Reign of Heaven", and "Take away temptations and no one will be saved."

As we begin the season of Lent, remember what the old Irish priest said, "Don't quit, turn back to God. He knows what he is doing." Remember, God's grace gives us the power to be victorious, but does not prevent the battle!

Prayer of Gratitude

My gracious Lord, you bestow your mercy upon me in superabundance. Without you, Jesus, I have nothing; but with you, I receive everything. May I always know and understand my need for your grace. And as I am gifted with it, may I respond with the deepest gratitude, thus, saving my soul through faith. Jesus, I trust in you.

Father Jim Drucker, "Philly's DooWop Priest"

Thursday, Mar. 7, 3:30 p.m., Parish Life Center

Before being ordained a Catholic priest at age 36, Philadelphia's Jim Drucker was a prolific songwriter, music publisher, record producer, WIBG-AM Radion 990 record hop producer, talent agent, road manager for Patty LaBelle, and a popular disc jockey.

Meet the music impresario who booked the top Rock n' Roll artists from the 50's and 60's before God called him to the priesthood and to military service as an Air Force Chaplain during the first Gulf War and Desert Storm.

Today, Philly's Rock n' Roll Priest transports listeners back to the Golden Age of Rock every Saturday from 4 to 5 p.m. on Philadelphia's WWDB-AM 860 featuring classic hits and encyclopedic commentary about the music that shaped a generation. — Brought to us by our Adult Group

About The Liturgy of the Hours: Also called The Divine Office, this is the Church's official prayer, and the highest form of prayer after the Mass. It is an ancient, structured way of praying Scripture throughout the day. These prayers may be prayed individually or together with others.

Hospitality Sunday — March 3rd! Join us after morning Masses!

Gather with friends and make new ones! Join us after Mass in the Gathering room for a cup of coffee, tea or cocoa and a bite of soft pretzels and donuts.

The Divine Hours include morning, midday, vespers (evening) and compline (before retiring) offices. They focus especially on the Psalms and hearken back to the Jewish custom of praying at fixed hours, a practice continued by the early Church.

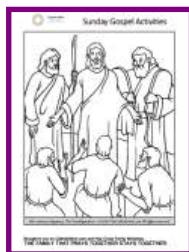

"Praying the Liturgy of the Hours is worth it—even if you do it badly" — Fr. Joe Laramie, S.J.

An old teacher once said, "If something is worth doing, it's worth doing well." She was right. An even older Jesuit once said, "If something is worth doing, it's worth doing poorly." He was right, too.

The Hour of Our Death | Eternal Rest | Ep. 3

The Anointing of the Sick is one of the Seven Sacraments of the Church. This session, we discover the role of this sacramental anointing in the spiritual struggle during serious illness, the final stages of our temporal life, and the hour of our death.

Talking Back: Scripture's to Answer Common Fears | Fearless | Episode 3

How can the Word of God help us face fear and win back victory from the Enemy's control? Chris continues his conversation with Fr. Dave Pivonka about how people of faith address fear. Scripture provides concrete ways to wield the power of God's Word against the fear of need, abandonment, vulnerability, condemnation, and more. Unlock the means for the Lord to free you from all fear.

Why is Lent Forty Days Long?

Forty is a number with ancient biblical significance. Lent is forty days long because Jesus fasted in the wilderness forty days and forty nights before embarking on His public ministry.

But Jesus did not select the length of His fast at random. Throughout the Old Testament, a stretch of forty days (or years) has always carried a deep meaning often related to punishment, penance, and/or preparation.

Here are a few examples:

- During Noah's time, God sent rain for forty days and forty nights to punish the earth with flood.
- In consequence of their lack of faith, the Israelites wandered in the desert forty years before reaching the Promised Land.
- The people of Nineveh fasted and repented to avert the wrath of God which the prophet Jonah predicted would come upon them in forty days.
- Both Moses and Elijah fasted forty days before or during important conversations with God.

When the time came for Jesus to begin His public mission, He utilized this tradition. His mission was of an all-encompassing nature that taps into—and fulfills—all the biblical reasons for forty day events. As the God-Man, He was embarking on His mission to be our Mediator—to converse with God on our behalf, as Moses and Elijah did in a prefigurative way.

As the one Man Who came to bear the punishment due to all men, He evokes the repentance of Nineveh that averted the punishment of God.

His time in the desert—reminiscent of the Israelites' forty year sojourn—proffers the idea that He is deliberately taking on the punishment due to our faithlessness, which otherwise would keep us away from the Promised Land of Heaven.

The season of Lent is our great opportunity to enter into the desert with Christ. Do you have a plan for how to approach these days and gain the incredible graces they offer us?

One way to enter into the desert with Christ is by meditating on our own death. Lent is a time when we remember the death of Christ and the sacrifice he made to give us eternal life.
