James couldn't figure out why he had to deal with the same sins over and over again.

"What's wrong with me? Why can't I just make up my mind not to do them anymore, and follow through with that promise? What are the words of the act of contrition that I say all the time: "I firmly resolve, with the help of thy grace, to confess my sins, do penance, and to amend my life"? Well, so much for the 'firm resolution' part of it!"

I would venture to say that most of us feel the same as James. That's why I love the reading we heard from St Paul. He writes about a "thorn in the flesh" that he wanted taken away. At first he doesn't understand why the Lord didn't do as he wished. But notice where he goes with it: "I will rather boast most gladly of my weaknesses, in order that the power of Christ may dwell with me. Therefore, I am content with weaknesses...". I'm sure St Paul didn't just come to this realization overnight. He had to struggle with it, but eventually Paul came to the conclusion that he was in this with Christ, and Jesus had a bigger plan for him in mind. And it wasn't just about Paul finding the strength within himself to conquer that "thorn in the flesh."

The wonderful Jesuit writer, Father Thomas Green, offers an insight on this very matter. This is what he said: "The Lord leaves them in us (those thorns in the flesh) to keep us humble, to make us realize how totally we depend on him and how helpless we are to do good without his grace and power." He then uses the parable of the weeds growing alongside the wheat as he expresses this next thought: "The wheat of our virtues—trust, humility, gratitude, zeal—could not come to full maturity, it seems, without the weeds of our instinctual failings."

The lesson that St. Paul learned is the one that I think we are all asked to learn, that these weaknesses are really for our growth in humility and in trust. Nevertheless we still hope that all these struggles will be gone "in the morning". But when we find that they are not gone, we know how to channel our energies: We cooperate in the Lord's plan to purify us and make us true disciples who know and find peace in allowing the Lord to be the one in control.

In the end we must make our will and God's will become one. Because it is only through the freely given gift of grace that we can be healed. Personal power must be aligned with the power of grace.

So, if you are on the journey that our friend James is on, which is the same one that St. Paul experienced, then you know that it is in your wounds and your sins that Christ will work his healing. Pray for the grace to resist temptation, and learn to come to the same conclusion as St. Paul: God's grace is enough for us. Actually it's everything. Through your weakness Christ's power will dwell within you!

St. Thérèse of Lisieux at 15.

I recently found out this bit of information about Saint Thérèse of Lisieux that I'd like to share with you:

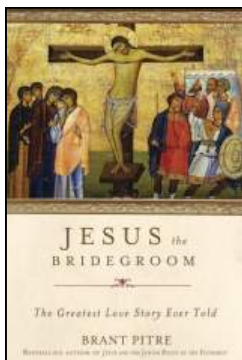

When she made her First Holy Communion at the age of eleven, she made three resolutions, and they are good ones for us too. First: "I will struggle against my pride." (This is important because pride often leads us to frustration when we find we are unable to conquer our sins on our own). Second: "I will entrust myself to the Blessed Virgin Mary every day by saying the Memorare. Third: "I will never get discouraged!"

The Memorare:

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary,
That never was it known that anyone that
Fled to your protection,
implored your help,
Or sought your intercession
was left unaided.
Inspired with this confidence,
I fly unto you,
O Virgin of virgins, my Mother;
to you I come,
Before you I stand, sinful and sorrowful; O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions,
But in your mercy hear and answer me. Amen.

Madonna, Mother of the Church

Jesus the Bridegroom

Brant Pitre once again taps into the wells of Jewish Scripture and tradition, and unlocks the secrets of what is arguably the most well-known symbol of the Christian faith: the cross of Christ. In this thrilling exploration, Pitre shows how the suffering and death of Jesus was far more than a tragic Roman execution. Instead, the Passion of Christ was the fulfillment of ancient Jewish prophecies of a wedding, when the God of the universe would wed himself to humankind in an everlasting nuptial covenant.

*Thank You!

For the Spread of the Gospel

God the Father, You will all men to be saved and come to the knowledge of Your truth.

Send workers into your great harvest that the gospel may be preached to every creature and your people, gathered together by the Word of Life and strengthened by the power of the sacraments, may advance in the way of salvation and love. Amen.

A Blessed 15th Sunday of Ordinary Time to All,

I have now reached the halfway point of my summer assignment and I want to start off by saying that being with you all has been a treasure. Many of you probably know me as our "doorman." I try to do it every Sunday for two reasons: One, it is a great way to connect with the parish and its people. Second, it helps reinforce the experience that Church is a warm and welcoming place. Know that I will continue this job until I depart in August, and I take great joy in doing it.

This Sunday, Mark tells us the apostles "went off and preached repentance". They were going into a world that knew nothing of Christ. By His authority, they were sent to teach others a new way of life, a better way of life. One that actively encourages us to turn away from sin and pursue a virtuous, holy life. They preached that through sin we are wounded and, by a personal relationship with Christ, we can be made whole again. The gospel is just as relevant today as it was then. I encourage you, brothers and sisters, as the summer continues, wherever you are, bring Christ to the world, just as the apostles did.

God love you always,
— Brandon Yurcisin

July is the Month of the Most Precious Blood of Jesus

The month of July is dedicated to the Precious Blood. The feast of the Precious Blood of our Lord was instituted in 1849 by Pius IX, but the devotion is as old as Christianity. The early Fathers say that the Church was born from the pierced side of Christ, and that the sacraments were brought forth through His Blood.

"The Precious Blood which we worship is the Blood which the Savior shed for us on Calvary and reassumed at His glorious Resurrection; it is the Blood which courses through the veins of His risen, glorified, living body at the right hand of God the Father in heaven; it is the Blood made present on our altars by the words of Consecration; it is the Blood which merited sanctifying grace for us and through it washes and beautifies our soul and inaugurates the beginning of eternal life in it."

Do you know someone heading to college this fall?

We'll be introducing you to Catholic resources available at many campuses across the country. As your college-bound friend or family member begins life on their own, help them to meet friends with similar values.

MEET NEWMAN MINISTRY! www.newmanministry.com

WE CONNECT STUDENTS SO THEIR FAITH THRIVES IN COLLEGE AND BEYOND.

Did you know that over 80% of students stop practicing the faith in college? Newman Ministry is committed to changing this statistic.

Our longest running program, Newman Connection, connects high school graduates to Catholic campus ministries and is endorsed by over 100 dioceses across our country every year.

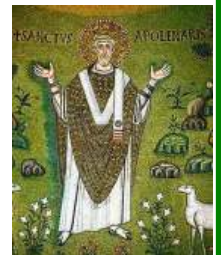

Most new college students want to find a place to belong. They want to be part of a community of people making a difference. The problem is, many students struggle to find great friends that share their faith. It can be overwhelming to walk onto a new campus with no friends. There's so many opportunities and decisions to make. Faith usually isn't at the top of their list. Newman Ministry connects students with a Catholic community on campus, so their faith thrives in college and beyond.

July 20: St. Apollinaris

According to tradition, Saint Peter sent Apollinaris to Ravenna, Italy, as its first bishop. His preaching of the Good News was so successful that the pagans there beat him and drove him from the city. He returned, however, and was exiled a second time. After preaching in the area surrounding Ravenna, he entered the city again. After being cruelly tortured, he was put on a ship heading to Greece. Pagans there caused him to be expelled to Italy, where he went to Ravenna for a fourth time. He died from wounds received during a savage beating at Classis, a suburb of Ravenna. A beautiful basilica honoring him was built there in the sixth century.
