Support the Collection for the Church in Latin America.

2ND COLLECTION THIS WEEK FEB 28/MAR 1

This weekend we take up the Collection for the Church in Latin America! Many people in Latin America and the Caribbean lack access to church programs and ministries because of a rising secular culture, rugged rural terrain, and a shortage of ministers. Your generosity enables our brothers and sisters in Latin America and the Caribbean to share in the life of the Church and grow closer to Christ. Thank you for your generous support!

This is a true story:
A group of soldiers were sitting around the barracks letting off steam. The talk swung around to religion and faith. One soldier, a fallen-away Catholic, claimed he no longer believed in confession. His buddies dared him to go to the Catholic chaplain and make a mockery of the sacrament, to prove he didn't believe in it anymore. So he went to the confessional, knelt down, and began. I have taken the Lord's name in vain a hundred times a day, and I couldn't care less. I haven't been to Mass in years and I couldn't care less. He pretty much went through all the commandments the same way. When the guy was through, the priest said: For your penance, put a crucifix on a table and then, looking at the crucifix say, "You died for me, and I couldn't care less." Say that five times.

When the soldier came out of the chapel, his buddies were waiting for him. They laughed and jeered asking what had happened. He laughed back and told them all about it. They were enjoying themselves and insisted that he do the "penance," since that was part of confession, and the dare had been to do a full confession.

So they pulled up a table and put a crucifix on it, and the soldier sat down and looked at it, surrounded by his buddies. But all he could say was, 'You died for me...' He tried and tried, but he just couldn't get himself to add, 'and I couldn't care less.'

Tears welled up in his eyes. Finally, he got up and ran back to the chapel to make a real confession.

On this first Sunday of Advent Jesus goes out into the desert to face the Accuser—that's what the word Devil means. The desert, because of the conditions one finds in a place like that, is a place where one is forced to make a decision. The desert is a place of utter poverty and therefore, potentially, of heroic trust in God. If we see desert as a metaphor we see how we have to make a decision—give in to the "comforts" the evil spirit is offering (food, power, possessions) or surrender to the mercy of God's providence. In other words, learn to trust in God and have confidence in what he did to save us, and know how much he loves us!

As we begin this Season of Lent, take some time to realize what the Cross really means. None of us here today could ever image ourselves saying: "You died for me, and I couldn't care less." Yet, we could very well be saying it in other ways—by how we're living our lives, by the decisions that we make, by how we unconsciously hurt other people, by how we allow ourselves to see things from only our own perspective.

So, perhaps we can gaze on a crucifix, and instead of saying "I couldn't care less", maybe we can say something more like "Help me to see that your love for me is more than I can ever imagine."

This Lent, we go into the desert, stripped of all the things that might be getting in the way of our relationship with Christ. In the desert we see nothing but our own weakness and we decide where we will seek the help we so dearly need. Will it be by focusing on the false hope offered by the "Accuser" which give only momentary comfort, or will we, in the face of our poverty, heroically rely on our trust in God?

SPECIAL BLOOD DRIVE!

NAOMI'S NINJAS

Sat, March 21, 9 AM—2 PM

Each year this mother-daughter duo holds a Blood Drive in thanks for the support they received at the time of the daughter, Naomi's, illness. In 2019, three-year-old Naomi was diagnosed with leukemia, one month before her 4th birthday. Doctors immediately gave Naomi a blood transfusion. It was the first of 20 blood transfusions she would receive over her two year cancer fight. Four years ago, Naomi hosted her 1st blood drive as a way to honor her fight and to help cancer patients who are still battling. Today, Naomi is a thriving 11 year old who loves writing poetry and playing soccer. It would not have been possible without the donors who gave selflessly. You can have the same impact for someone else. St. John Neumann Church is happy to help Naomi's cause!

Praying the Stations of the Cross for Healing

This Lent, pray the Stations of the Cross through the lens of healing—for ourselves and for others.

The First Station—Jesus is Condemned to Death by Pilate

Healing from the Pain of Rejection

Our true identity is identification with Christ. See Jesus judged and condemned. Be there.

The Second Station—Jesus Accepts His Cross

Healing from the Weight of Our Sins

The weight of the cross is sin. Jesus carries ours. See Jesus accepting the cross. Be there.

The Third Station—Jesus Falls the First Time

Healing from the Experience of Failure

A strong Christian is a weak person who relies on God. See Jesus fall under the weight of the cross. Be there.

Why we should fight against our "little sins" during Lent

Lent is a spiritual battle, whether we realize it or not.

It is a time when we imitate Jesus' 40 days of temptation in the desert.

Pope Benedict XVI pointed out this aspect of Lent in a homily he gave on Ash Wednesday in 2006:

Another aspect of Lenten spirituality is what we could describe as "combative", as emerges in today's "Collect", where the "weapons" of penance and the "battle" against evil are mentioned.

Every day, but particularly in Lent, Christians must face a struggle, like the one that Christ underwent in the desert of Judea, where for 40 days he was tempted by the devil, and then in Gethsemane, when he rejected the most severe temptation, accepting the Father's will to the very end.

For us, "It is a spiritual battle waged against sin and finally, against Satan. It is a struggle that involves the whole of the person and demands attentive and constant watchfulness."

It is the perfect time to examine our own lives and see which sins we hold onto, whether they are big or small. Pope Benedict XVI explains that sometimes the "little sins" we commit deserve an equal amount of effort to eradicate:

St Augustine remarks that those who want to walk in the love of God and in his mercy cannot be content with ridding themselves of grave and mortal sins, but "should do the truth, also recognizing sins that are considered less grave...." and come to the light by doing worthy actions. Even less grave sins, if they are ignored, proliferate and produce death" (In Io. evang. 12, 13, 35).

So while we should try to eliminate our more serious sins, we shouldn't neglect the little ones that can sow the seeds of death in our spiritual lives.

If we ignore the "little sins" in our lives, they can become the big ones that lead us away from God. aleteia.org

March 3: St. Katharine Drexel

St. Katharine Drexel of Philadelphia devoted her life to working with Native American and African American populations. She founded the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament whose main mission was to support these under-served communities. The order, under Katharine Drexel's direction, founded school systems and missions across the country for Native Americans and African Americans. In 1915, at the request of the Archbishop of New Orleans, Katharine started Xavier University of Louisiana, the only Catholic, historically black university in the United States. "If we wish to serve God and love our neighbor well, we must manifest our joy in the service we render to Him and them."
