Men discover that this divine communion is not distant or abstract. It begins here and now. At the altar, in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, heaven touches earth. The eternal Feast is made present. Christ gives Himself completely and invites us to do the same.

Sometimes we find ourselves in “impossible” situations. It can be a difficulty with your teenage son or daughter, a husband suffering from an addiction, a wife who's battling with depression, family drama about how to handle an aging parent. Perhaps it involves a friend, a situation at work, or other circumstance where you find yourself throwing your hands up in despair.

We call these situations impossible for a reason—they're not easily resolved. And it seems that there's no end in sight—no relief.

My intention in mentioning these kinds of things is not to be gloomy. I certainly do believe in miracles—that with God nothing is impossible. But there are those times when we pray, we offer help, and nothing happens. I think these are the situations that Jesus is addressing in the gospel from Matthew.

So, here's the best way to sum up the message: When dealing with what seems impossible situations, do your best and leave the rest to God.

Here's another little scenario:

A guy who lost his young wife a year ago to cancer is now trying to deal with a rebellious daughter who has gotten herself pregnant. The girl is immature and is just expecting her father to take the responsibility of raising the child. The daughter is not saying that directly, but the father knows that's what's going to end up happening. The father is trying to help the daughter face reality, and this is not going over too well. The daughter keeps saying that she wishes her mother were still alive, that she would understand better. The father is trying to do his best in what seems at the time to be an impossible situation.

You might ask: How do I know if I'm doing my best? Well, have you tried to talk to the other person? Have you sought the advice of others? Have you asked God to help you? Have you even considered bringing God into the situation at all?

You also have to remember that many of these kinds of situations are not of your own making. Don't blame yourself or place the burden completely on yourself to figure out how to fix it. You do your best and leave the rest to God. You learn this prayer and say it to yourself many times throughout the course of the day: Jesus, I give myself to you. Take care of everything. Say it many times and let it sink in!

And really leave it to God. Learn to take God seriously! Don't grind about the situation and get angry and frustrated or allow yourself to be filled with resentment. Don't make yourself miserable over what's going on and try not to become fearful of the future. At the same time, don't run away and try to hide from the situation and pretend all is fine when you know it isn't.

Finally, trust that God will not abandon you. Keep praying and know that God has some greater purpose that someday will fully understand.

SEP 14: THE EXALTATION OF THE HOLY CROSS

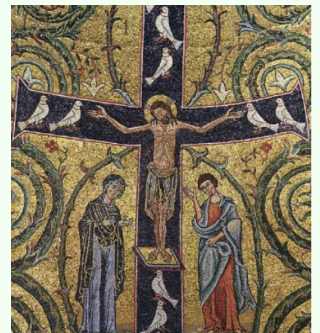

The one symbol most often identified with Jesus and his Church is the cross.

On September 14th we celebrate The Exaltation of the Holy Cross. This feast traces its beginning to Jerusalem and the dedication of the church built on the site of Mount Calvary in 335. But the meaning of the cross is deeper than any city, any celebration, any building. The cross is a sign of suffering, a sign of human cruelty at its worst. But by Christ's love shown in the Paschal Mystery, it has become the sign of triumph and victory, the sign of God, who is love itself.

Believers have always looked to the cross in times of suffering. People in concentration camps, in prisons, in hospitals, in any place of suffering and loneliness, have been known to draw, trace, or form crosses and focus their eyes and hearts on them. The cross does not explain pain and misery. It does not give us any easy answers. But it does help us to see our lives united with Christ's.

We often make the Sign of the Cross over ourselves. We make it before prayer to help fix our minds and hearts on God. We make it after prayer, hoping to stay close to God. In trials and temptations, the cross is a sign of strength and protection. The cross is the sign of the fullness of life that is ours. At Baptism, too, the Sign of the Cross is used; the priest, parents, and godparents make the sign on the forehead of the child. A sign made on the forehead is a sign of belonging. By the Sign of the Cross in Baptism, Jesus takes us as his own in a unique way. Today, let us look to the cross often. Let us make the Sign of the Cross and realize we bring our whole selves to God—our minds, souls, bodies, wills, thoughts, hearts—everything we are and will become.

O cross, you are the glorious sign of our victory. Through your power may we share in the triumph of Christ Jesus. (Prayer of Christians)

When and why do we make a small cross on our forehead, lips and heart during Mass?

Last Week: Before receiving Communion we pray, "Lord, I am not worthy..." where does this come from; why do we pray it?

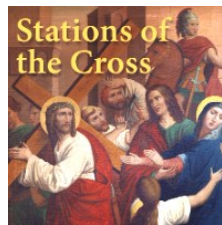

The Seven Sorrows of the Blessed Virgin Mary

The Seven Sorrows of Mary is a traditional Catholic devotion featuring meditations on sorrowful episodes in the life of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Join us in prayer as we celebrate the feast of Our Lady of Sorrows.

Stations of the Cross by Saint Alphonsus Liguori

The Augustine Institute presents a beautiful meditation on the Stations of the Cross by Saint Alphonsus Liguori, narrated by Dr. Christopher Blum. This prayerful reflection is accompanied by the Schola Cantorum, chanting the traditional Catholic hymn Stabat Mater to aid your prayer.

Our Lady of Sorrows and the Power of Prayer

Discover the value of redemptive motherhood by tuning in to Anna Mitchell, co-host of ETWN's "The Son Rise Morning Show." Anna shares the story of her five-year-old's serious illness along with the miraculous intercession of a fourth-century martyr.

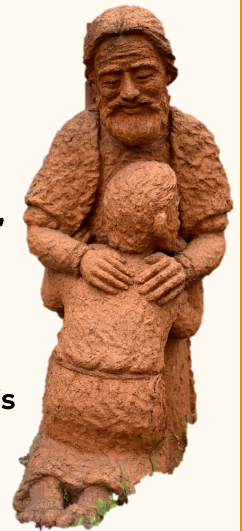

"If we really want to love, we must learn how to forgive."

— St. Teresa of Calcutta

"In silence, let's all think... of a person with whom we are annoyed, with whom we are angry, someone we do not like. Let us think of that person and in silence, at this moment, let us pray for this person and let us become merciful with this person."

— Pope Francis, Angelus, Sept. 15, 2013

Sep 16: Saints Cornelius and Cyprian

Saints Cornelius and Cyprian were Bishops of Rome and Carthage during a period of schism in the 3rd century. The root cause of the schism was the question of re-admittance of apostatized Catholics throughout the Roman Empire. Cornelius and Cyprian believed that these individuals could return to communion with the Church after performing public penance. The opposite opinion was held by the anti-pope Novatian; he believed that the apostatized could not return to the Church. Cornelius and Cyprian believed that this topic was important to show the divine mercy of God. After holding their position against Novatian, Cornelius and Cyprian were martyred during persecutions order by the Roman emperor. Catholicapostolatecenter.org
